

VIRGINIA WOMAN GAINS TWENTY-FIVE POUNDS

Mrs. Harris Says Her Recovery
Since Taking Tanlac Proved
Big Surprise To Her Friends

"My recovery since starting on Tanlac has been a surprise to myself and all who knew of my dreadful condition," said Mrs. T. H. Harris, of 627 Gum Street, Lynchburg, Virginia.

About a year ago last October I had a bad spell of influenza that left me in a terribly run-down condition. I could hardly even think about eating and even the little I forced down always gave me indigestion. I had terrible spells of swimming in the head and I had to sit down to keep from falling. I spent days at a time in bed, and even when I was up I was so weak I just dragged about the house. Nothing helped me and I lost weight until I was almost a skeleton and my family and friends had no hope of my getting well.

"But Tanlac has not only relieved me of these troubles, but has built me up twenty-five pounds in weight besides. The first few doses got me to feeling better and now I have such an appetite I can hardly eat enough to satisfy it and nothing ever hurts me. All my aches and pains have left me, I feel like a different person altogether and am so much stronger I can do all my work without any trouble."

advertiser and buyer of printing to object to the reasonable advances in prices which country publishers and printers are establishing for the continuation of their business.

The country printer and publisher, with few exceptions, has never enjoyed the remuneration demanded by his banker, grocer, clothier, lumber dealer, carpenter, bricklayer, plumber, painter, and representatives of various other mercantile lines and trades. It may have been his own fault. He may have been too "fair" with his patrons and not fair enough with himself. Be that as it may, within the last several months he has been given stern object lessons in business economics, and as a class has become convinced that he is entitled and intelligent and ability required, on a par with other businesses to a compensation for his capital compared to his. And he is right.

Even though there is a general falling market, prices will for several years remain at a higher level than before the war. The printer and publisher will have to pay more for the things he has to buy for himself, his family and his business, and it is therefore right for him to ask and receive better prices for what he has to sell, and lay a new foundation that will hold up his business structure under the new conditions which will assail it. Those who have not already done so should lose no time to protect themselves in this matter. And those printers and publishers who have been able to establish a price level fair to themselves and their customers should be deaf to importunities for a reduction.

It is to the shame of hundreds of communities all over the country that the local papers and printing plants have been sufficient for the proprietor to continue them and maintain self-respect as a citizen and a business man.—Publishers' Auxiliary.

New Fishing Methods.
A Lamont man who is charged with having taken a fish from a private fish pond declares the fish were so tame that one of them was eating out of his hand, and he simply closed his fingers on it and carried it away. Our own method has always been to whistle to the creatures from across the fence, and walk away, innocent-like, while they trot down the road after us.—Detroit News.

For the Family Table

Not so very long ago the thought occurred to us. Why couldn't Oleomargarine be churned like butter in such a way as to eliminate that oily texture and after flavor that is very distasteful and kept many from using. We were sure that Oleomargarine was not made right.

After a good many months experimenting, we were finally successful and today MILO is churned like butter—tastes like butter—has the natural butter texture. The minute you open the carton you notice the sweet buttery aroma of MILO.

Such arrangements have been made with the following dealers that they have MILO fresh from our churns at all times and at almost half the price paid for butter. Just try one pound with our money back guarantee.
